A FARM belonging to Mr T. C. Daniel, Storleigh Court, Tivorton, Was recently advertised to be let by tender. The highest bidder was Mr Yendell. He gave as references Lords Poltimore and Fortesone, and finally it was agreed he should have the farm ; but before the lease was signed in a final interview with Mr Daniel he was asked if he was a Churchman, to which he replied no, he was a Wesleyan, but supposed that times were passed for that to make any difference. To his surprise however he subsequently received the following letter from Mr W. Easton (Taunton) the agent :- Dear air -After due consideration, Mr Daniel has come to the conclusion not to accept your proposal for Filemore. All his other tenants are Churchmen, consequently he has decided not to make an exception in this case. Thanking you for your tender for the farm, I remain &c.

Eight more boxes remained in her when the Namoa left the river, and they will no doubt also be recovered. It is said the divers are employed by the Insurance Company, and get 10 per cent. of what they save. There appears to be little hope of the vessel being raised.

On the nights of the 5th, 6th and 7th the officers and engineers of the wrecked vessel were on board the Sapphire; on the 8th they went on board the Namoa. A Court of Enquiry was held at Foochow on the 9th. It was composed of Vice-Consul Warren, Captain Jago of the Cyclops and the navigating Lieutenant of the Midge. The Court sat the whole of the day, and the decision had not been communicated to the officers of the vessel when they left at 5 o'clock on the following morning. It is believed, however, that the Captain and officers of the Kwangtung will not be found in fault. The only passengers | who pulled yesterday, and from the form on board at the time were Mr and Mrs Wade Gardner and child, Mr Collins, and 10 Chinese passengers.

Judge of the Sailing Races:—Lieut. Kennwin, R.N. SECOND DAY,

Saturday, 13th December, 1884. Beautiful weather again favoured the Regatta. In the early part of the afternoon, the rowers found it rather warm for hard rowing, but for spectators of the races the air was deliciously cool and pleasant. The interest in the rowing culminated today in the International Race, in which the Scotch were again declared the victors. They certainly had to fight hard for the honour thay so nobly won, and few, be their nationality what it may, can say they did not thoroughly deserve it. It was a plucky race that gained them the day. The result might have been different if the English

The notice of the present General Meeting has been in your hands the boats from the Audacious and Victor for five clear days, exclusive of the day of giving same and this day, and you have also been notified that the object of this meeting is merely to comply with the requirements of the Companies Act under which the Association is incorporated in London. I would explain that Sec. 49 of the Companies' Act, 1862, requires every Company to hold at least one General Meeting in every year. The General or Statutory Meeting was held in London or the 2nd May, 1883, and it was merely formal meeting held in accordance with Sec. 39 of the Act of 1867. The date of Incorporation was 24th Feb., 1883. gentleman, concludes the business before the meeting. The directors are pleased. be able to state that the business for the nine months of the current year that is to 30th September-is satisfactory and shows a local increase. The agencies present a good showing, and our prospects promise good results for the year.

for their establishment in 1842. Sikawei was then but a very insignificant hamlet : the greater part the ground on which the mission is erected was a donation. As the mission grew, it became requisite to buy some of the adjacent lands, until it reached the extension we see at present; with buildings constructed on a plan which is perfect in its execution and grand in its perception. The institute of the Jesuit Fathers has not only departments for merely elementary education, but is also devoted to the teaching of the more advanced branches of study, and even fine arts; and it contains foreign and Chinese libraries of the greatest value, containing upwards of 20,000 volumes. In connection Leong Ayan and Leong Ache, two coolies, with the College there is an Orphanage,

It may not appear quite obvious why the Jesuit Fathers should have adopted a course of instruction which is entirely analogous with the one followed by colleges of a purely Chinese character, viz., the exclusion of fishmonger, Chun Sau Ling, a hawker, all branches of Western science, and the and two others with having entered a house teaching of the Chinese classics only. They become then qualified for ordination and are sent for another two years with some of the Fathers into the interior, where they learn the style of teaching and preaching, At present there are about ton natives in the last-named seminaries."

We now come to a branch of the establishment which is of an entirely different character, viz.

THE ORPHANAGE. This, undoubtedly, is the most interestng department of the institute. Most unique in its design, and a more interesting sight could hardly be imagined than those long and airy rows of buildings that form the various work-shops for the orphans, all of whom are of pagan families, and for a greater part destitutes, and each of whom is taught a useful trade. At present there are about one hundred and eighty boys and young men harboured in the orphanage. Almost every branch of industry is there represented : carpenters, joiners, barvers, varnishes, draughtamen, weavers, shoemakers, tailors, printers, bookbinders, painters in watercolour as well as in oil, eral Meetings; but we have reserved the &c. Of the above-named number of intitle of the first Ordinary General Meeting, mates of the Orphanage about one hundred are still receiving an elementary education only; they must be twelve years old before they are allowed to become an apprentice to a trade; when they can chose whatever trade they like. Those who acquired the requisite amount of efficienty are regarded as muster-workmen, and receive pay! ascordingly. They are then allowed to leave, should they chose to do so, or else remain on the premises. In the former instance, however, they must enter into an agreement with their new master, by which they bind themselves to visit the Orphanage three or four times every year, each time for a day ; in order that they may receive necessary instructions in religious matter. It is on the northern portion that their expectations are fixed; and though it is not improbable that, even if they succeed in making themselves masters of this end of the island, they will be disappointed with their prize, yet if the coal-mines in the neighbourhood of Keelung could be properly worked they might be made to yield a very profitable output. This northern coal producing territory is cut off from the rest of the island by the Keelung River, which, rising near the port of that name on the eastern coast, empties itself into the harbour of Tamsui on the western shore.

To the geologist and naturalist this district is extremely interesting. The whole ative Syrup, and an thankful to say have surface is highly volcanic. Towards the derived more benefit from it than any other centre Mount Chowsson, an active yel- medicine I ever took, and would advise any cano, rises to a height of 3,650 feet; and at one suffering from the same complaint to its base six sets of volcanie gaysers shoot give it a trial; the results they would soon forth columns of water which, when Chao- find out for themselves. The temperature of the sulphurous outpourings from these springs is about 450 degrees; and the stoam thrown off from them is visible at a distance of several miles. Besides these geysers hot springs abound, and a sulphurous taint is to be observed in many of the ordinary streams. Earthquakes are frequently visitors. The occurrence of as many as three or four shocks of considerable violence within a twelvementh is by no means uncommon and though the tremors are more often harmless than destructive, the inhabitants are constantly haunted by the knowledge that at any moment their houses may be overthrown, and all they possess destroyed. In 1867 a catastrophe of this nature wrought great havoe in Keelung and its neighbour hood. At the moment of the shock the sea retreated from the harbour, leaving the anchorage dry, and then immediately rushed back in two huge waves which swept everything before them. Keelung was nearly destroyed, and the towns of Kimpaoli on the north and Patchin on the west were partially wrecked; Tamaui was seriously damaged, and many hundreds of people lost their lives. It was this shock which effected so great a change in the shape of the hill from which Keelung takes its name that it ceased to be called Keelung, or 'Fowl Baskot,' and was rechristened Kwei-lin, or Spectral Uni corn ' (i) Apart from the volcanic features of Northern Formosa, geologists may find abundant interest in the remarkable sandstone formation observable at Keelung. 'In some places,' we quote from the Customs Trade Report for 1881, 'the surface resembles a series of billiard-tables surrounded by rocks of different forms ; in another place one fancies onesees processions of monks with their cowls down, whilst adjoining are fairy-like castles with elaborate and delicate ornamentation; and, again, doep fissures through which the water rushes, guarded by colossal ninepins : the exposed surface of the sandstone exhibiting fossil bones in bas-relief. Against these rocks the smooth swell of the Pacific rolls in long, undulating hills. . . . In front. and at a short distance from the land, Keelung Island . . . rises abruptly from the sea a dark and barren rock. The whole scene of this place is so weird, so strange and extravagantly grotesque, so utterly unlike anything one has ever seen or heard of, that all I could compare it to was the drop-scene in a theatre.

The flora of northern Formosa is rich and abundant; the ground being plentifully covered, except in the neighbourhood of the sulphurous streams, with Indian lilies. roses, orchids, rhododendrons, tree-ferns. and a host of other unprofitably gay plants of tropical growth. The fauna, too, is extensive, and, with the exception of cobra-capellas and centipedes, possesses nothing that the French invaders need concorn themselves about. But probably Admiral Courbet will prefer confining his operations to the immediate neighbourhood of the Keelung coal-mines to advancing into the jungle retreats of these reptiles. He certainly will find quite enough to oc cupy him at the pits' mouths if he intends to work the coal. By the latest accounts we learn that the Chinese have fired the principal mine with kerosene oil, and have thus destroyed the entire plant of foreign machinery as well as burned out an immense quantity of coal. This mine has been worked under the superintendence of Mr. Tyzack, an English mining engineer. for the last ten years; and between 1874 and 1879 yielded the following very creditable results: 1874, 15,221 tons : 1875. 27,665 tons; 1876, 31,593 tons; 1877. PARCEIS. The public is reminded that there is no such thing as Parcel Post to Europe, &c. Much trouble and disappointment are caused by persistent attempts to send small valuable trifles through the Post Fans, Ourios, Articles of Dress. Fancy Work, and similar presents are continually being refused, the senders having often spent more in Postage than would have paid the freight by steamer. No refund can be made on such parcels of the value of Stamps obliterated before the nature of the contents was discovered.

Local and Indian Parcel Post 1. Small Percels may be sent by Post at Book Rates between Hongkong and any of the British Post Offices in China, as we as to Japan, Macao, Pakhoi, the Straits Settlements, Ceylon and India, They must not exceed the following dimensions, 2 feet long, 1 foot broad, 1 foot deep, weigh more than 5lbs., nor be smaller than 3 in. by in. Such percels may be wholly closed if they bear this special endorsement. PARGEL, CONTAINING NO LETTER, but any 496 parcel may be opened by direction of the Postmastet General. In the Case of Parcels for India a declaration of contents and value is required, a printed form for which is supplied gratis. The Registration of Parcels for India and Ceylon is compulsory,

Mest, Fish, Game, Fruit, Vegetables, or 855 whatever is dangerous to the Mails,

3. Parcels are as a general rule forwarded by Private Ship, not by Contract Mail Packet. To India they are forwarded by the P. & O. and Indian Mail Packets only, to Ceylon by P. & O. only. No responsibility is accepted with regard to any parcel, unless Registered, and then only to the amount of $10. 4. The public are cautioned not to confound these facilities with a Parcel Post to Europe, &c., which does not exist. It is necessary that the following rules be strictly observed. 1. No Letter or Packet, whether to be registered or unregistered, can be received for Postage if it contains gold or silver money, jewels, precious articles, or anything that, as a general rule, is liable to Customs duties. 2. This Regulation prohibits the sending of Patterns of dutiable articles, unless the

3. The limits of weight allowed are as Fook Theng Books and Papers-to British Offices, 5 lbs. ; to the Continent, &c., 4 lbs Patterns-to British Offices, 5 lbs. if without intrinsic value; to the Continent,

Indemnity for the Loss of a Registered Article. The Post Office is not legally responsible for the safe delivery of Registered correspondence, but it is prepared to make good the contents of such correspondence lost while passing through the Post, to the extent of 810, in certain cases, provided :-1. That the sender duly observed all the Krune, Capt. M. 1 conditions of Registration required. 2. That the letter was securely enclosed in a reasonably strong envelope. 3. That application was made to the Postmaster General of Hongkong immediately the loss was discovered, the envelope being invariably forwarded with such application unless it also is lost.

4. That the Postmaster General is satisfied that the loss occurred whilst the correspondence was in the custody of the British Postal administration in China, that it was not caused by any fault on the part of the sender, by destruction by ire, or shipwreck, nor by the dishonesty or negligence of any person not in the employment of the Hongkong Post Office.

5. No compensation can be paid for mere damage to fragile articles such as portraits, watches, handsomely bound books, &c., which reach their destination, although in a broken or deteriorated condition. Chair, Jinricksha, and Boat
